Friends of CCIV 2019

Established in 1998, while mainly responsible to provide general education courses to City University students, the Chinese Civilisation Centre is devoted in organizing open lectures and activities. We hope that through free admission to our programme, the public could gain a better understanding and learn how to appreciate Chinese cultural heritage.

We would like to invite you to become "Friends of CCIV". With your support, our Centre is going to provide more diversified educational activities. Kindly fill in the form below, and then mail or send it back to our Centre in person. After receiving your donation, we will send you our programme booklet and information of 2019.

Deriving from the Kaifeng of Beiifeng in the Book of Songs, the Poem named "The Mild Breeze from South" praises the virtues of a devoted son. The first sentence with its title associates with mother's tender love - using the metaphor of the breeze from south that nourishes all living things to show the greatness of motherhood. While expressing how CCIV cherish public support, we adopt this line to foster our shared hope of being like the mild breeze to thrive Chinese culture on this southern island and nourish generations to come.
